

inspired

Kitchens & Baths

Magnificent Kitchens and Luxurious Bathrooms Created by the Nation's Finest Designers

Foreword by Suzie Williford, NKBA

In
lu
de cu
va
an de kil
ra ir Al
a l

Yc
ba be Br
Lc
in N
by ki

Le yc
TI
in G
ec
bi

Sc
cr

THIS PAGE: This kitchen has a timeless allure, which we love to call classic with a touch of modern flair. The crisp white cabinetry is complemented by the walnut island, which echoes the warmth of the homeowners' walnut furniture. We prioritized meticulous craftsmanship and incorporated modern touches throughout, such as the stunning statement lighting.
Construction: Konstructo Inc.
Photography by Jessica Brydson

FACING PAGE: This modern-transitional Californian kitchen makes a bold visual statement with its mix of black wood and white tones. The 10-foot-long wood island in white oak plays a big role in warming up the space while juxtaposing the stained black cabinetry behind it. Likewise with the counters, we selected two tones to offer a nice contrast while keeping it visually clean. Details like the rattan stools and wood floating shelves add an approachable flair while brass fittings and faucets bring energy and class. The distinctive style of the oversized custom hood adds character and charm.
Construction: NPC Construction
Photography by Jessica Brydson
Designed by Natalia Avalos Interiors, San Francisco, CA, page 366

Insp
luxu desig cura
varie
and desig
kitcl
rang imag
All p a ke

You' bath
besp
Boiv
Lori
imag
Nor
by /
kitcl

THIS PAGE: This kitchen has a timeless allure, which we love to call classic with a touch of modern flair. The crisp white cabinetry is complemented by the walnut island, which echoes the warmth of the homeowners' walnut furniture. We prioritized meticulous craftsmanship and incorporated modern touches throughout, such as the stunning statement lighting.

Construction: Konstructo Inc.
Photography by Jessica Brydson

Let
you
The
into Get
edit
bacl

FACING PAGE: This modern-transitional Californian kitchen makes a bold visual statement with its mix of black wood and white tones. The 10-foot-long wood island in white oak plays a big role in warming up the space while juxtaposing the stained black cabinetry behind it. Likewise with the counters, we selected two tones to offer a nice contrast while keeping it visually clean. Details like the rattan stools and wood floating shelves add an approachable flair while brass fittings and faucets bring energy and class. The distinctive style of the oversized custom hood adds character and charm.

Construction: NPC Construction
Photography by Jessica Brydson
Designed by Natalia Avalos Interiors, San Francisco, CA, page 366

So
crea

timeless allure, which we of modern flair. The crisp ed by the walnut island, the homeowners' walnut ulous craftsmanship and throughout, such as the

-transitional Californian statement with its mix of 10-foot-long wood island a warming up the space black cabinetry behind it.
 elected two tones to offer it visually clean. Details floating shelves add an fittings and faucets bring e style of the oversized d charm.

Interiors, 5

For the overall design, we wanted to ensure that the house felt integrated with the outdoors, as the property is sitting on an acre of redwoods. It was important to the clients to utilize as many natural materials as possible. In the primary bathroom, we achieved this organic integration by maximizing the picture window above the freestanding stone tub and using a lot of texture and movement throughout the space. White oak wood is a stunning choice for the cabinetry and built-ins, while gorgeous marble adds polish in a herringbone format for the floors and a larger format for the shower walls. The black quartz countertop adds a layer of drama to complete the space.
 Photography by Jessica Brydson
 Designed by Natalia Avalos Interiors, San Francisco, CA, page 366

"A home should be just as functional as it is beautiful and tell the story of the people that inhabit the space. It should reflect their lifestyle, likes, and most importantly personalities. All these elements come together to create the essence of what we call home."
 —Natalia Avalos

Brian Carabet
 erming readers.
 e has produced
 define what it

efolio of luxury
 of architectural
 North America,
 Homes, Pacific
 leased Inspired
 Homes, Dream
 Nature Wines &
 sk series further
 in the luxury

onographs in its
 shed Rethinking
 I Circle, Square,

ive far-reaching
 id international

For the overall design, we wanted to ensure that the house felt integrated with the outdoors, as the property is sitting on an acre of redwoods. It was important to the clients to utilize as many natural materials as possible. In the primary bathroom, we achieved this organic integration by maximizing the picture window above the freestanding stone tub and using a lot of texture and movement throughout the space. White oak wood is a stunning choice for the cabinetry and built-ins, while gorgeous marble adds polish in a herringbone format for the floors and a larger format for the shower walls. The black quartz countertop adds a layer of drama to complete the space.

Photography by Jessica Brydson

Designed by Natalia Avalos Interiors, San Francisco, CA, page 366

"A home should be just as functional as it is beautiful and tell the story of the people that inhabit the space. It should reflect their lifestyle, likes, and most importantly personalities. All these elements come together to create the essence of what we call home."

—Natalia Avalos

Brian Carabet
erning readers.
e has produced
define what it

tfolio of luxury
of architectural
North America,
Homes, Pacific
leased Inspired
Homes, Dream
ature Wines &
ok series further
in the luxury

onographs in its
hed Rethinking 1 Circle, Square,

ive far-reaching
d international

164

Inspired Kitchens luxurious Arrange
 segregated by cor

ces inspir enhance yo photography
 e of the most know the desi orial that reveals a backgrounds.

So get cooking, draw creations by these most

Designed by Natalia Avalos Interiors, San Francisco, CA, page 366

"A home should be just as functional as it is beautiful and tell the story of the people that inhabit the space. It should reflect their lifestyle, likes, and, most importantly, their personalities."
 —Natalia Avalos, Natalia Avalos Interiors

Designed by Barbara Hayman Designs, Orlando, FL, page 361

Designed by LGB Interiors, Columbia, SC, page 365

Contents

Kitchens

- Contemporary Kitchens 13
- Transitional Kitchens 87
- Traditional Kitchens 193

Designer Advice Columns

- Planning Your Dream Kitchen 28
- Infusing Your Personality Into Your Design 51
- Custom Cabinets Make a Statement 70
- Accessible Kitchen Designs Can Be Stylish 97
- Breathing Life Into Your Kitchen 112
- Selecting the Right Surfaces 130
- Dedicated Spaces for Specific Functions 155
- Favorite Kitchen Design Tips 198

Bathrooms

- Contemporary Baths 229
- Transitional Baths 293
- Traditional Baths 351

Designers Advice Columns

- Incorporating Natural Elements and Textures 246
- Rethinking A Bathroom 259
- Melding Different Textures Into Your Design 278
- Lighting Creates an Immersive Environment 306
- Shower Essentials 316
- Designing Wellness Into Your Bathroom 330
- Mirrors Matter 348

Meet the Designers 360

Inspired Kitchen
luxurious Arrang
egated by cor

Designed by Natalia Avalos Interiors, San Francisco, CA, page 366

"A home should be just as functional as it is beautiful and tell the story of the people that inhabit the space. It should reflect their lifestyle, likes, and, most importantly, their personalities."

—Natalia Avalos, Natalia Avalos Interiors

Designed by Barbara Hayman Designs, Orlando, FL, page 361

So get cooking, draw
creations by these most